Supermarket stalls K-Mart

by GLORIA DAVIS

Just two months ago the local headlines were full of the coming, to Antioch, of the controversial K-Mart Shopping Complex, slated to go on Rte. 83, in the area of the North Ave. intersection.

Lately all has been quiet on the North Ave. front even though, the complex's developers, Ramco-Gershenson Inc., Farmington, Mich., received the Antioch Village Board's approval for the use of industrial bonds to help finance the complex — approval that was given over loud objections from the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry and some of its members.

Then the developers had said that they expected to break ground this summer but as yet the site is still untouched.

Mike Warren of Century 21 Realty, the firm handling the real estate end of the deal, says "I'm still anticipating the project becoming a reality but undertakings this size do not happen quickly, especially in these times with our country's economic problems."

He also added that he understood that the developers were presently involved in market research since there were other tenants besides K-Mart itself involved.

On Friday, August 28, developer Dennis Gershenson said, "In these difficult times more and more problems keep cropping up instead of getting resolved. We have every intention of going forward with the developement but presently are being held up by the negotitions with the supermarket."

Gershenson said that if everything goes well, they expect to break ground within 60 to 90 days.

He also reported that they were in the midst of talking to a number of people, both local and national, that were interested in the other available retail space planned for the project, but would not be able to get down to serious negotiations with them until the deal with the supermarket was completed.

Locals face 5-10 years for burglary

Two Antioch men have been found guilty of two charges each of aiding and abetting a theft or burglary in the Kenosha County Circuit Court of Judge William Zievers.

Michael W. Johnson, 20 and Michael J. Rederer, 19, were arrested last February by the Antioch Police Dept. in connection with that department's bust of a two state burglary ring, netting then the return of $30,000 in stolen merchandise.

In July, Johnson and Rederer, after serving six months in the Lake County Jail, were given credit for that time served, put on probation and instructed to make restitution of any unreturned property stolen in Lake County by a court of that county.

Sentencing for both men is set for Sept. 18., in Kenosha. Fines of $10,000 and sentences of between five and 10 years on each charge face the two Antioch men.

Wis., Ill. cops continue teen drinking crackdown

On the weekend of August 21-22-23, Wisconsin law enforcement agencies made 80 arrests for open intoxicants and drug possession.

Salem and the Wisconsin State Patrol made 37 such arrests, all Illinois residents; Twin Lakes made 43 arrests with only three of those local residents.

Last weekend, August 28, 29 and 30, Salem and the state patrol made 50 to 60 arrests, again for open intoxicants and drug possession. Ninety percent of those arrested were from Illinois.

This time, those arrested had no waiting for arraignment. Salem Municipal Judge Eugene Briggs was at the Salem Townhall bright and early Sunday morning, August 30, to see that formal charges were made before they were transferred to Kenosha County Jail to await hearings.

Lt. Tom Fisher, Antioch, reports that the vigilance of the Antioch squads along Rte. 83 has caused many of the Illinois travelers to Wisconsin to come home via Hwy. 50 to either Hwy. 45 or the tollway, adding to the problems of the Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept.

Illinois teens are learning that party-time in Wisconsin might cost them legal difficulties, a fine of $117 for having open intoxicants, $117 for possession of just one reefer, $250 fine for driving while intoxicated, or worse.

Antioch police and neighboring departments in both Illinois and Wisconsin have found their own way of dealing with teenage drinkers who go from Illinois to Wisconsin to escape the 21-year-old Illinois drinking age.

While Wisconsin legislators are getting more and more pressure to adjust that state's drinking age upward, law enforcement agencies still must face the associated problems of teenage drinking and driving.

They're doing that by utilizing the laws already on the books.

Fisher explained that Antioch police officers work extra hours on weekends to monitor teen traffic coming home from the bars just over the state line. That has been going on for some time and they usually are aided by the state police, who assign squads to the area.

The result has been a lot of arrests, according to Fisher, for such violations as speeding, driving while intoxicated and transportation of open liquor. And it's standard procedure to stop cars and check them out if there is any hint of a drunken teen behind the wheel.

Taking action on the problem of intoxicated teens trying to make it home from Wisconsin, has also become popular in other neighboring communities.

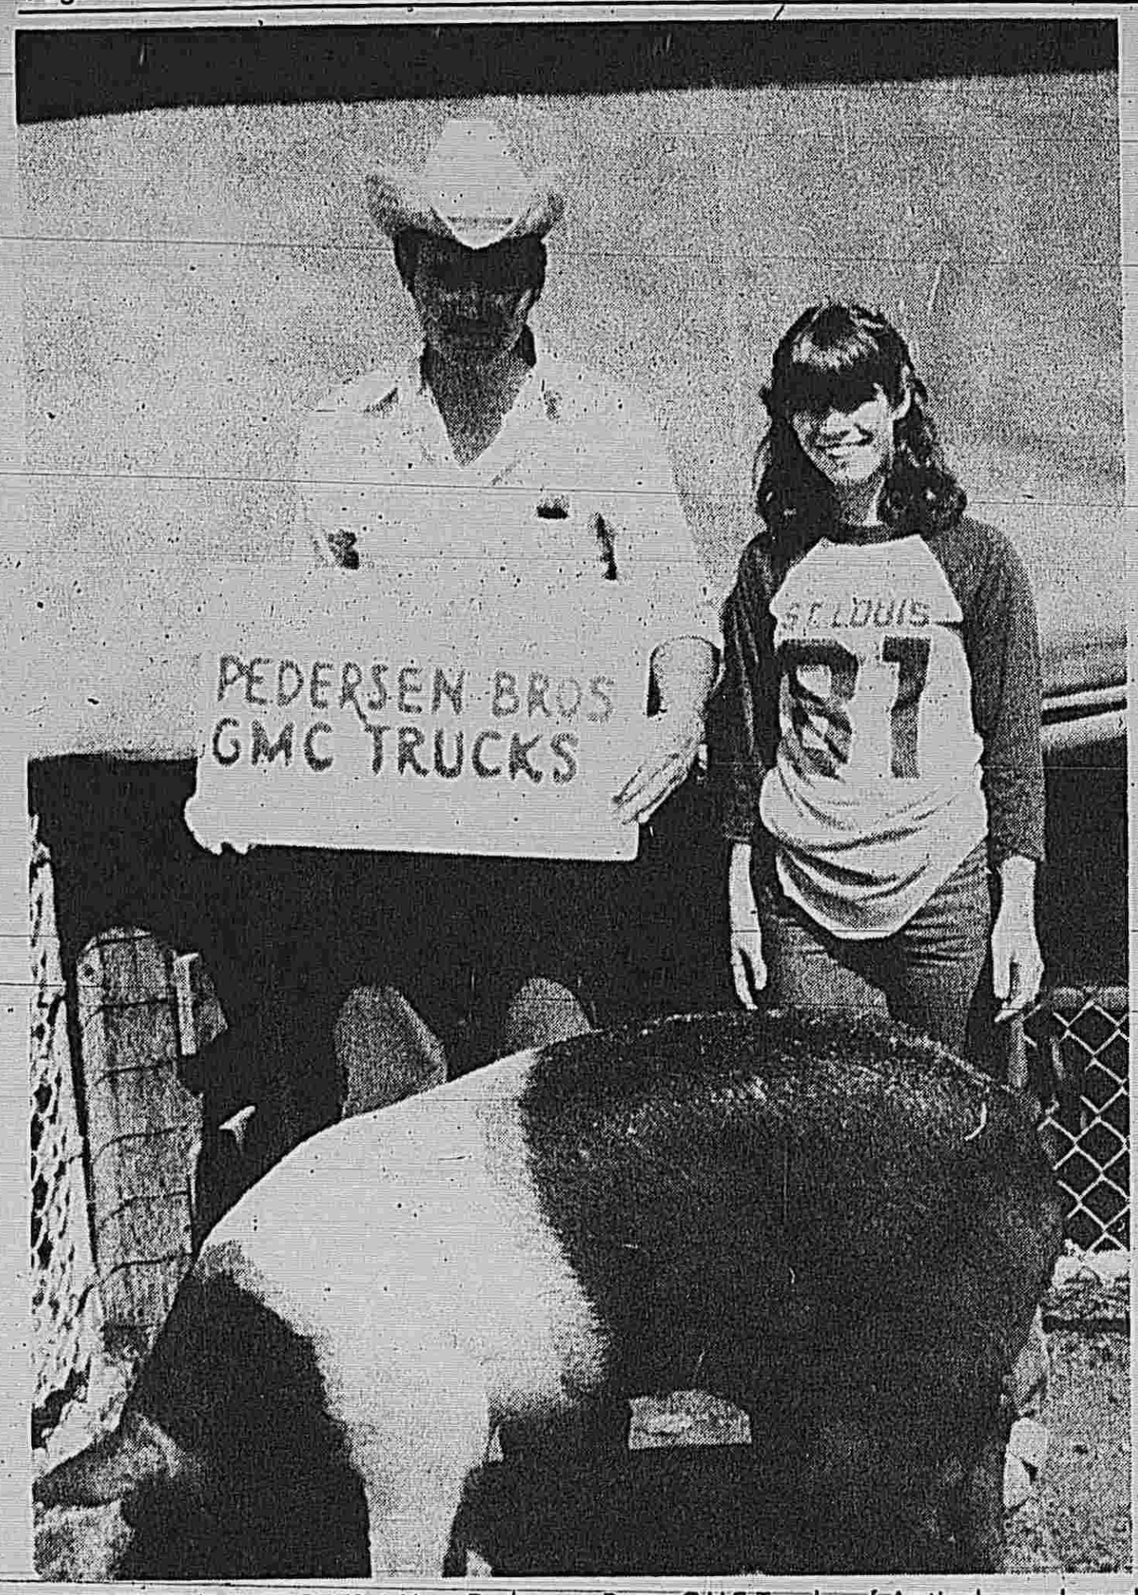

On August 14, Salem police held a sweep of four of the 12 teen bars in a five mile stretch between North Ave. and Hwy. 50 in Salem Township. It took until 4 a.m. Saturday morning to process arrests from the previous evening.

According to Duane Reh, Salem Township police commissioner, a total of 10 arrests were made for having open intoxicants, four for possession of marijuana, two for speeding and one for driving while intoxicated.

"Something has to be done. It's getting worse every weekend," said Reh. Salem has 30 licensed bars for a population of 6,000.

Also over the weekend of August 14 and 15, the Twin Lakes Police Dept. cracked down on out-of-state and local drinking drivers. With the cooperation of the Wisconsin State Patrol, Kenosha County Sheriff's Police, McHenry County Sheriff and Richmond Police an intensive push was made. The Twin Lakes Police alone made 80 arrests: 37

Community backing helps Fourth's gala

An Antioch trustee said she will attempt to survey every home in the village in an effort to collect residents' responses on a senior citizen housing issue.

Claudette Skvarce said she hopes to gather enough opinions throughout the town to get a good idea of how the people feel about bringing senior citizen/low income housing to Antioch.

Skvarce said she will produce the results of her survey at the next Village Board meeting just before trustees vote on the matter.

Skvarce said she will ask residents if they favor the proposed 100 units of senior citizen housing, if they are in favor of low income housing, and if they are in favor of the Lake County Housing Authority (LCHA) resolution.

In 1970 the Village Board signed a resolution for the development of 100 units of senior citizen housing. However, because of a fire that burned LCHA records and a change in federal laws, the resolution was not acted on.

The current LCHA resolution calls for one low-income housing unit for every five senior citizen units; Mayor Ray Toft said he feels there are enough senior citizens in Antioch and the surrounding area to fill the 100 proposed units.

Representatives of agencies interested in securing senior citizen/low income housing in Antioch will explain the rules and regulations to the trustees at the August 31 Village Board meeting.

The 8 p.m. meeting is open to the public at 874 Main St.

Carole Reports

Summer was good, bad

by CAROLE RISKA

The summer season is officially over with the kids back in school and Labor Day, the last summer holiday, coming up fast.

Seems like everyone is busy trying to get back into their fall schedules and here and there you will see leaves falling and trees turning colors and the squirrels are running around storing their winter food supplies already.

Antioch has had a good summer and in some ways a bad summer, the old fashioned Fourth of July picnic was a big hit; the firemans dance was as usual a success; and the Lions Club BBQ had their faithful followers turn out even with the bad weather.

Antioch Township's program to aid senior citizens with yard and home maintenance was greatly appreciated by those who were assisted.

Lake Catherine residents were pleased to see the much discussed aerator replaced, even though it was not put in until later in the summer, the aerator made a definite difference in the cleanliness of the water.

Also, regarding the Lake Catherine area, and the Channel Lake area, those people who live over that way will be happy to know that their problems have not been forgotten by the Lake County Regional Planning commission.

These two areas are still under consideration for part of the funds that this commission has to spend, while other areas have been eliminated from the commission's final deliberations.

And of course there was all the great young people of Antioch who moved up in their lives to higher education, careers, marriage and parenthood.

It seemed the summer was filled with one happy celebration after another.

Unfortunately there was a bad part of the summer season too. Maybe because our population is concentrated into such a small isolated area, our problems are sticking out like sore thumbs.

First we have the alcohol abuse and the amount of car accidents due to over indulgence in alcohol has been unbelieveable.

The boating accidents and drownings are terrible. David Heath, township road commissioner and chief of the rescue squad, stated that though there are not any statistics to prove it, there is a probability that 95 percent of the accidents that occur involve alcohol.

If you consider that doctors are treating injuries and not looking for alcohol involvement, these incidents go unreported to the National Safety council who compiles alcohol related auto accident statistics.

Heath also stated that while the idea of a Loch Ness type of monster on Lake Catherine may be interesting reading, the only monster is a giant bottle bass, or once again too much drinking.

Boaters have been observed falling off piers, getting out of the water, then staggering to the bar to be served once again.

The responsible bartender, who might cut off a automobile driver, never seems to feel the same way about a boat operator.

The attitude seems to be "What can happen in the water?"

Take a look at the accidents and the drownings, that's what can happen.

In case any one thinks this is being done by kids, think again its all age groups, the 20-year olds, 30-year olds, 40-year olds, and 50-year olds and up.

Everybody likes to have a good time, and many of us like to have a couple of drinks, but is it worth it to get stoned, blitzed, smashed, wasted or out of your skull and take the chance of killing, crippling or maiming yourself or someone else?

As for those who are in the business of selling alcohol beverages isn't it their responsibility to cut off those people who have had already too much to drink?

Judging by comments heard in and around Antioch lately, there is mounting public concern about these awfull accidents.

Then we have those increasing problems with Antioch area youth, a subject that I would like to research further, and present to readers next week.

When I think about it

Age old saying's etc.

by GLORIA DAVIS

The older the coin, the more its worth. The longer that fine wine is aged, the higher the price.

The older the book, the rarer it is and ergo the more costly. Furniture that's 100 or so years old goes to the highest bidders at antique auctions and cars that were manufactured 60 years ago are collectors items.

All of which just goes to show that the more years things are around, provided that they are kept in, or refurbished back into, good condition, the more valuable they are.

Everything that is except people. Oh yes, some take better care of themselves than others, but to date, no one has come up with an honest to goodness fountain of youth.

And despite all the fat farms, beauty salons and plastic surgeons, a completely successful "people rebuilding shop" has yet to have its grand opening.

One of the greatest inequities of life, for we humans, is that the more knowledge we gather and the greater our talents become, the more tired and tattered their container grows.

Even though we continually starve ourselves to remain slick, slim and slender, old Isaac Newton and his law of gravity still wins out with the thinest derrieres suffering a case of dropsy and even the sexiest pairs of "Dolly Paedons" eventually seem to be trying to do the toe touch exercise all by themselves.

It isn't much fun having your manly chest become part of your waist measurment, is it fellas? Yul Bryner is one of the few sex symbols that can get away with a 12 inch forehead.

Those who stay thin risk becoming gaunt and wrinkled and the starving chubbies gain pounds just by listening to the fast food commercials on the radio, not to mention the tons of extra flesh packed on as Julia Child "klutzes" her away across the tv screen.

At 12:01, on the morning of a humanoids 42nd. birthday the old 20-20 vision starts its rapid down-hill slide and before we know it we can't read a simple volume like the phone book without either 20 foot arm extensions or getting our noses smeared with printer's ink.

And as if the graying hair isn't bad enough, the powers that be had to make it thin and wiry too.

If I ever acclamate to that aged image in the mirror that still encases the feelings of a sexy 25 year old, I just know that I'll never get used to the slip sliding of the mind.

How can a person who had a semi-photographic memory at 18 find it difficult to remember to pay the light bill one month and ditto the gas bill the next month.

In this age of magnificant discoveries, don't you suppose that the Jolly Green Giant could find a way to freeze-dry us for posterity when we are at our physical and mental best.

I guess we can take comfort in the fact that at least we all grow old together, well almost together. Between you and me don't you think that the classmate of mine across the room looks a lot older than I do?

Many have said it better than I.

Mom Mabley said, "You just wake up one morning and you got it."

R.C. Sherrif said, "When a man retires and time is no longer a matter of urgent importance, his colleagues give him a watch."

I'm 65 years old and I guess that puts me with the geriatrics but were there 15 months in every year, I'd only be 48, suggested James Thurber.

One ancient philosopher said that "If God had to give a woman wrinkles, He could have put them on the bottom of her feet."

Groucho Marx philosophised that, "A man is only as old as the woman he feels," and another remarked that the best thing about age is the fact that all the things you couldn't have when you were young, you don't want as you grow older.

Still another claimed that "youth is a blunder; manhood a struggle and age regretable."

According to Victor Hugo, "40 is the old age of youth and 50, the youth of old age."

Mark Twain warned that, "When your friends begin to flatter you on how young you look, it's a good sign that you're getting old."

Agreeing with Twain, was Cardinal Spellman who lists the three ages of man as youth, decay and "you're looking wonderful.

One of the best descriptions of age that I've heard is that one has to be 59 years old to believe that a fella is at his best at 60.

Oh well! What's that they say about the alternative?

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Wayne Parthun tells me that the annual Rotary Pork Chop Barbeque is all set for Saturday, Sept. 26, at the Antioch Action Center.

I'm really looking forward to that event and savings my pennies, they have such terrific buys at their auction.

My spies tell me that Joanna Vasek has just joined the Apache Corp, as their new budget accountant.

After that unfortunate accident that happened at the Kenosha County Speedway during the Kenosha County Fair, I don't understand why there are still people standing behind the fence, opposite the grandstand, near the opening where the race cars exit from the track. They are taking the chance of being hit by one of those exiting cars.

It would seem to me that the only and the safest place for everyone but drivers and pit crew is in the bleechers.

How long does love last these days?

Well have you hear the story about the man the wrote a love poem to his wife 10 years ago, put it in a bottle and tossed it in the ocean halfway between Seattle and Hawaii.

Part of the poem said that no matter how long it took for her to receive the poem, he knew that their love would be as strong as it was the day he wrote the note.

Well the bottle and note were found last week and when the poem was delivered to the wife, she laughed hysterically as she read it, said they were divorced and slammed the door on the bearer.

Congrats to Airman First Class James Porter, son of Master Sgt. and Mrs. William Porter, who has been named the outstanding airman of the quarter at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii.

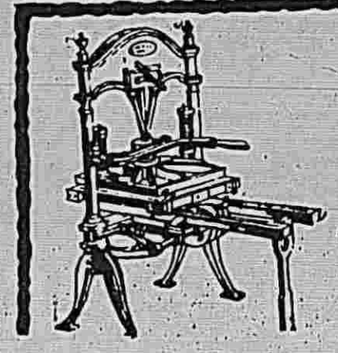

Speaking of Antioch's military heroes, I also see that Airman John Gorski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gorski, Rte. 4, Antioch, will be remaining in his home area.

He has just been assigned to Chanute Air force Base, after completing his basic training.

The annual Day of Renewal, held at the Benedictine Abbey, will start with Mass at 10:30 a.m., on Sunday, Sept. 13.

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: SEPTEMBER 3, 1931

Thousands gather here for Cermak Day. Little did the young Tony Cermak dream that he would ever become mayor of the second largest city in the United States when he left his native country, Czechoslovakia, and came with his parents to Braidswood, Ill. His father was a poor miner when he brought his six-year-old son to America. His countrymen have unlimited faith in Tony's ability to abolish crime and make an end of the Al Capone regime.

Greeted by throngs of friends and well-wishes, Anton J. Cermak, Chicago World's Fair mayor, today arrives in Antioch, where he will be officially honored by the Antioch Cermak Day committee, and informally hailed by thousands of supporters.

Louise (Bertha) Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. James, of Antioch has made about 200 records for broadcasting which have been used from coast to coast. She has had entire direction of orchestra and vocal groups, while Bill Hay was the announcer. Her next two programs will be "Little Buster Popcorn" on the NBC chain opening September 26 and "Minneapolis Honeywell," on September 20.

Witnesses were unable to identify John Williams as the slayer of Mrs. Ann Patterson, who had been arrested on suspicion as the man who murdered his red haired companion on a wild booze party and left her body near Silver Lake. The man sought as the slayer is Lester "Blackie" Faust.

30 YEARS AGO: SEPTEMBER 6, 1951

New honor and recognition was bestowed upon Antioch's Dale Barnstable recently when he was called upon to serve as temporary coach of the famed Kentucky Wildcats, NCAA basketball champions, getting them ready for a pre-season tour of Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Lorraine Smith, Felter's Subd., won high honors at the Indiana Budgerigar Society Unflighter show held at Chesterfield, Ind.

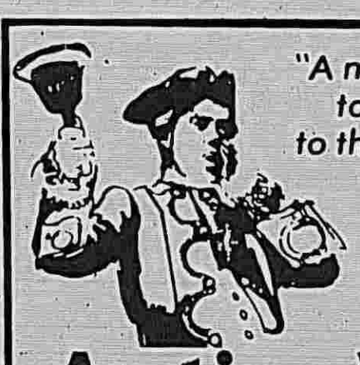

Miss Daisy Hull, 75, operator of a children's boarding home known as Kendall Hall was arrested yesterday on charges of contributing to the delinquency of children. Conditions at the place were said to be filthy, only two of the beds having sheets. The children, dirty and ill kept, were fed on two meals a day and very little at that, and some gave evidence of being beaten.

10 YEARS AGO: SEPTEMBER 1, 1971

Mrs. Irving L. (Jessie M.) Paddock celebrated her 99th birthday on Aug. 24. As a young girl visiting relatives in Antioch, Jessie was introduced to Irving Paddock, and after a long-distance courtship they were married in 1892. They came to live on the Paddock farms near Bluff Lake where she resided until her husbands death in 1945. Mrs. Paddock now lives with her daughter Mary on Orchard Street where her main interests are watching the action in the Orchard Plaza from the front window.

Janet Ditzig, Antioch, was one of ten finalists from throughout Illinois who recently competed in the annual Little Miss Peanut Pageant.

In 1841, E.J. Simmons brought his young family from New York to Illinois where he bought 160 acres of land from the government and established a home in a log cabin built that same year. Ten years later his son built the farmhouse which still stands on the rolling hillside just west of Antioch on Rte. 173. Much of the old farmhouse can still be seen when you visit Lorenz's Smart Country House, one of the outstanding restaurants and cocktail lounges in Lake County.

READY TO PICNIC — Smiling in anticipation of a successful 14th Annual Republican Picnic to be held on Sunday, Sept. 13, at Old Willow Park, Rte. 45 between Rte. 132 and Washington St., are Republican officials and picnic committee members, from left, standing, State's Atty. Fred Foreman, general chairman; County Recorder Frank J. Nustra; and Jack (Red) Anderson, county treasurer; and seated, George Kangas, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee; Suzie Metzler, executive secretary of the Lake County Republican Federation; Regional Supt. of Schools William L. (Bill) Thompson; and Robert H. (Mickey) Babcox, county coroner. Other members of picnic committee not present are Sheriff Tom Brown and Central Committee Treasurer Raymond E. Lindroth.

Republicans ready for annual picnic fun

Lake County Republican officials have completed plans for their 14th annual picnic to be held at Old Willow Park on Druce Lake, Rte. 45 between Washington St. and Rte. 132.

General chairman, State's Attn. Fred Foreman, said, "We're all set!"

County Coroner Robert (Mickey) Babcox and Recorder of Deeds Frank Nustra head of the food committee. Regional School Supt. Bill Thompson is responsible for beer and soft drinks. Sheriff Tom Brown will handle transportation, parking and grounds arrangements with Treasurer Red Anderson in charge of ticket sales. Central Committee Treasurer Ray Lindroth of Libertyville is finance chairman.

"We're ridin' high" said Republican County Chairman George Kangas, "1982 will be a great Republican year."

According to Foreman all state Republican heavyweights are expected to attend. "Food and fun for all."

Events are scheduled to begin at noon. Tickets are available through precinct committeemen, elected officials or from Central Committee Headquarters, 228A N. Genesee St., Waukegan; phone (312)623-0235.

Grade schools' lunch policies are announced

Due to a decrease in federal subsidies, the Antioch Grade School District has been forced to increase the price of milk and school lunches for the coming year. While the subsidized milk last year cost five cents, and was later raised to seven, this year a half-pint of milk will cost 15 cents.

The Class A lunch has risen from 60 cents to 80 cents, due largely to the loss of the milk subsidy and other subsidies for hot food, and the reduced lunch, for those who meet the criteria, has gone from 20 cents to 40 cents.

The board has also agreed to increase the pay for substitute teachers from $35 last year to $37.50 per day for 1981-82. Skidmore said that surrounding area schools have increased their rates for next year, some as high as $40 or $45 per day, but added that the $37.50 was in line with that paid by the high school district and other feeder school districts.

Construction of the multi-purpose annex building, also known as the W.C. Petty annex, on the grounds at W.C. Petty School, is nearly completed.

The construction, which includes a concession stand, bathrooms and three storage rooms, is being financed jointly by the Antioch Grade School and High School districts and the village.

The grade school district has spent $8,750 on the project and the village has spent $4,800, according to a district report. There is still an outstanding masonry bill of $1,100, bringing the total cost of the project to $14,650.

The figure will be brought up to the estimated $15,000 project cost with the installation of dividers in the wall and the pouring of some blacktop around the building. The village and two school districts will then split the cost of the project three ways, with each paying $5,000.

Dr. Donald Skidmore, grade school superintendent, explained that there are many activities on the school grounds, conducted by various community groups, in which there are no bathroom or concession facilities available because the school is closed.

Completion of the project will provide nearly unlimited availability of such facilities.

Skidmore also reported to the grade school board, at its August 18 board meeting, that contractors Jenkins and Boller have almost completed the life safety work at the Antioch Upper Grade School, with only the final inspection left to be completed. Installation of the generator at Oakland School has been delayed due to the inavailability of the proper size generator.

The board also agreed to increase reimbursement for employes who use their car for authorized school business, from 25 cents per mile last year to 27 cents. The district will also increase the rate to 30 cents if conditions justify the increase.

Also approved by the board of education was the hiring of four certified and two non-certified staff members for the coming year.

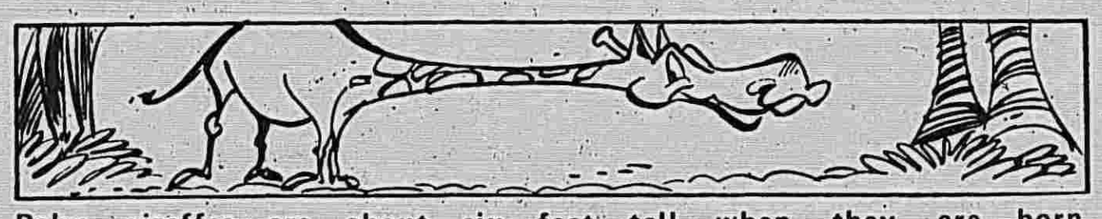

Diane Bishop, a recent graduate of the University of Wisconsin, has been added to the language arts staff at Antioch Upper Grade.

Lynn Harrison is a graduate of the University of Illinois and has four years of teaching experience. She can teach both language arts and math.

Elizabeth Stanowski is a recent graduate of National College of Education and has excellent student teaching credentials. She is a math major with a minor in science and is being hired to replace Max Cummings in the junior high math department.

Karen Heinsohn is a former elementary school teacher from Lake Villa who recently graduated with a masters' degree in environmental education-outdoor education. She will be employed for one year to take Dave Booth's position as director of the Title IV-C project.

Jan Pfarr has been employed for four hours a day to do data processing for the district and serve as district treasurer. Mrs. Gloria Kruczek will work 15 hours a week at the W.C. Petty School as a secretary.

Baby giraffes are about six feet tall when they are born.

When first born, the baby kangaroo is the size of a bumblebee.

Poems' published

Tom Hausman, of Antioch, chairman of the English-communications department and drama director at Wilmot High School, has had one of his poems published by the Greater National Society of Poets, Inc. in their state book of poems by high school students and their instructors.

The society encourages the writing of poetry by sponsoring an annual contest and by an annual publication of representative poems from across the country.

Hausman's poem is entitled "Blue Leaves Must Wither" and was inspired by John Guare's play "The House of Blue Leaves."

Both the play and poem deal with the problem of reality versus fantasy.

Hauseman donated a copy of the state book of poems to the Wilmot High School library and wrote a dedication to the students and staff of the school.

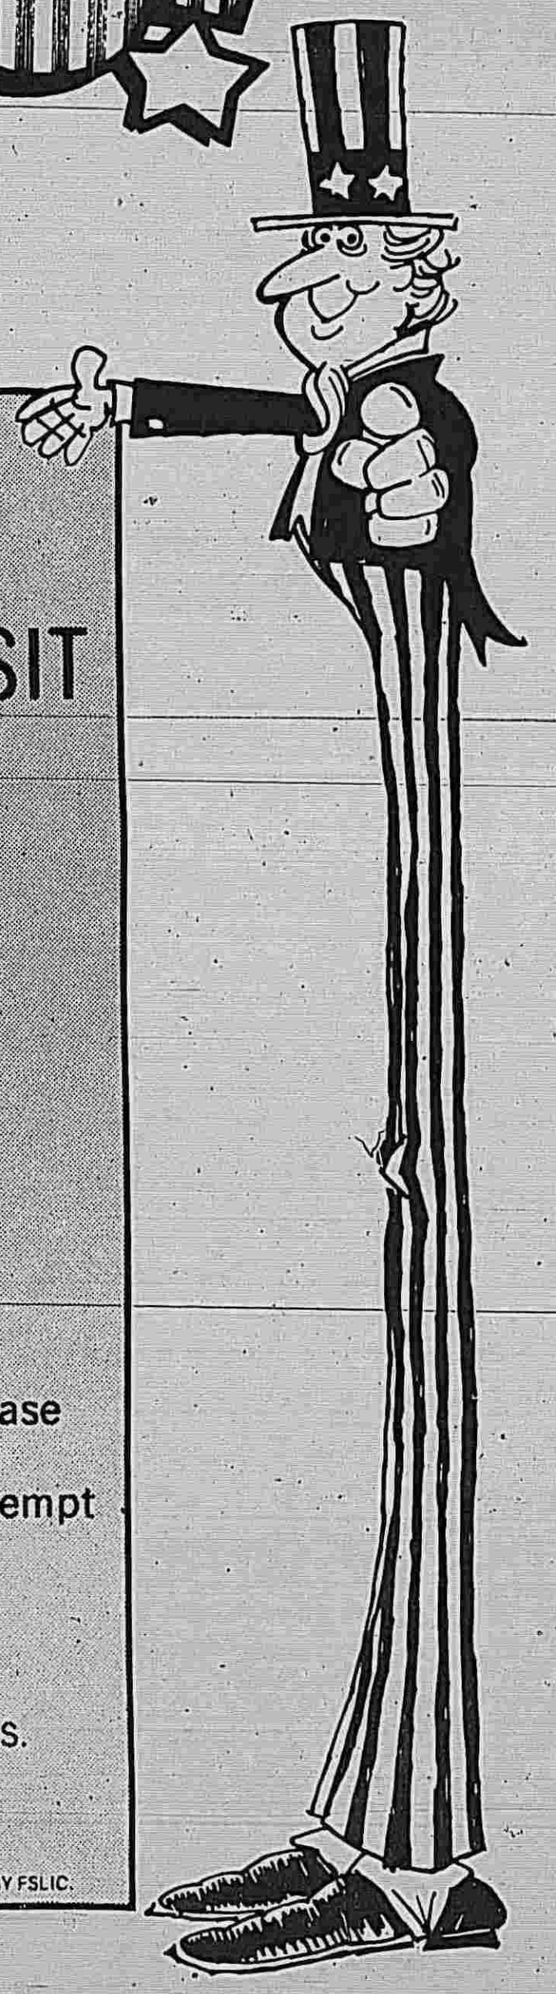

He says he will submit more poems this coming year and will send in student poems that he feels are worthy.

BLUE LEAVES MUST WITHER

I dwell in a House of Blue Leaves — protected from my failures.
My shelves, stocked
with unfulfilled dreams,
secure me.
I curl up with a carton of fantasy and crunch my Fill of fancy,
Then drift off to undigested
Sleep.
I leap not
From my barren bed
To greet each new day,
But rather drag a
Bored body to an Ever-growing bowl of the Cold cereal of time which Twists
My craving heart with a cruel cramp,
While rusty Routine
And rigid Reality
Rap at my door,
Crying Caustically,
"Come out, Coward!
Face your Life!"

To show $30,000 cycle

The main attraction of the Blue - Knights of Illinois Chapter Eight annual show will be something motorcycle enthusiasts will not soon forget — a custom 1977 Harley Davidson valued at $30,000.

The bike is owned by Dean Nelson, a Franklin Park businessman who owns a home on Pistakee Lake. Nelson registered his Harley in Blue Knights Show, which will be held beginning at 10 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 6 at the Sail Inn, Rtes. 59 and 132 in Fox Lake.

Nearly all of Nelson's bike is made of hand-built or customized parts. Many major pieces have 24 karat gold plating or 164 chrome plated parts. The bike is equipped with built-in directional signals, a digital speedometer, turbo charger and computerized starting system.

The local Blue Knights chapter, which sponsors the show, is comprised of law enforcement officials from all over Lake and McHenry Counties. Chapter Eight has been in existance for over two years and now has a membership of 37. It includes members from the Villages of Fox Lake, Wauconda, North Chicago, the City of McHenry, and the Lake County Sheriffs Office.

All interested bikers may still register on the day of the event. Signups will begin at 10 a.m., and show space will be available on a first come first served basis.

Awards will be given to the best judged bikes in, American, Asian and European models, in each of the following categories: touring, street modified, street custom and street radical bikes.

Registration fee is $5 and a grounds fee of $1 per person will be collected for all non-participants in the show.

PM&L sets season 21

PM&L is proud to announce its 21st season's opening with one of Roger and Hammerstein's favorite musicals, "Carousel," directed by Tom Hausman, on Sept. 19, 25, 26, 27, and Oct. 2 and 3.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all dates except for the matinee performance at 2:30 p.m. on Sept. 27.

The bewitching and beguiling "A Giant's Dance" by Otis Bigelow, directed by Lou Jones is Nov. 14, 20, 21, 22, 27, and 28.

Ken Smouse will direct the brilliant and biting "Whose Life Is It, Anyway?" by Brian Clark on Feb. 13, 19, 20, 21, 26, and 27.

Neil Simon's "The Good Doctor" will be the bright and bizarre presentation for April 10, 16, 17, 18, 23, and 24.

"Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," one of Tennesse Williams most popular plays, will be directed by Barb Miller on June 5, 11, 12, 13, 18, and 19. All performances are at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, Il.

Season tickets are now on sale and will be available at the box office during the run of "Carousel."

Season ticket price is $15 which is a substancial saving over the box office price of $4.50 for musicals and $4 for a standard play.

For the third year in a row, PM&L's season tickets remain the same price.

To order mail your check, name, address, and phone number to PM&L, Box 23, Antioch, Il. 60002. Your tickets will be mailed to you.

For reservations or further information call (312)395-3055.

Blood pressure test successful at fair

The Lake County Health Dept. announced that 1,800 people were screened for high blood pressure during the Lake County Fair held from July 29 to August 2 in Grayslake.

Staff and volunteers from agencies participating in the Lake County Health Dept. Hypertension Coordinating Council performed the screening.

Members of the Hypertension Coordinating Council participating in the Fair screening included Heart Assn. of Lake County; Lake County Health Dept.; College of Lake County; American Hospital Supply, Veteran's Administration Hospital, North Chicago; and Lenore Deacon, R.N., a private duty nurse.

"We were very pleased with the turnout at the fair," said Susan Bekenstien, hypertension coordinator for the Lake County Health Dept. "What impressed us was that about 350 people a day thought it was important to take this preventive measure to protect their health. Twenty-one percent of those we screened were either previously diagnosed as hypertensive or had elevated blood pressure levels."

"Seventy-five percent of those screened," said Dr. Steven Potsic, executive director of the Lake County Health Dept., "were from the Lake County area. Massive screening at events such as the Fair are a very effective way to reach County residents. The screening is a simple and effective way to identify the one out of six people who is hypertensive.

"By identifying those poeple, providing them with appropriate health information and encouraging them to obtain regular medical care, we can put a dent in the number of illnesses and deaths caused by cardiovascular-related diseases."

The Lake County Health Dept. and other members of the Lake County Health Dept. Hypertension Coordinating Council conduct free blood pressure screening clinics on a regularly scheduled basis throughout the county. For further information call (312) 689-6716.

Teacher Contract

The Antioch Grade School Board has approved a proposed teacher contract that will give an average salary increase of approximately nine percent to the districts 76.5 teachers. The contract approved by the school board July 28 is expected to be accepted by the Antioch Teacher's Association August 24. The contract will give Antioch grade school teachers a six to 10 percent salary increase and an increase in major medical insurance coverage.

speeding, five drunken driving, 27 equipment violations and 11 miscellaneous arrests.

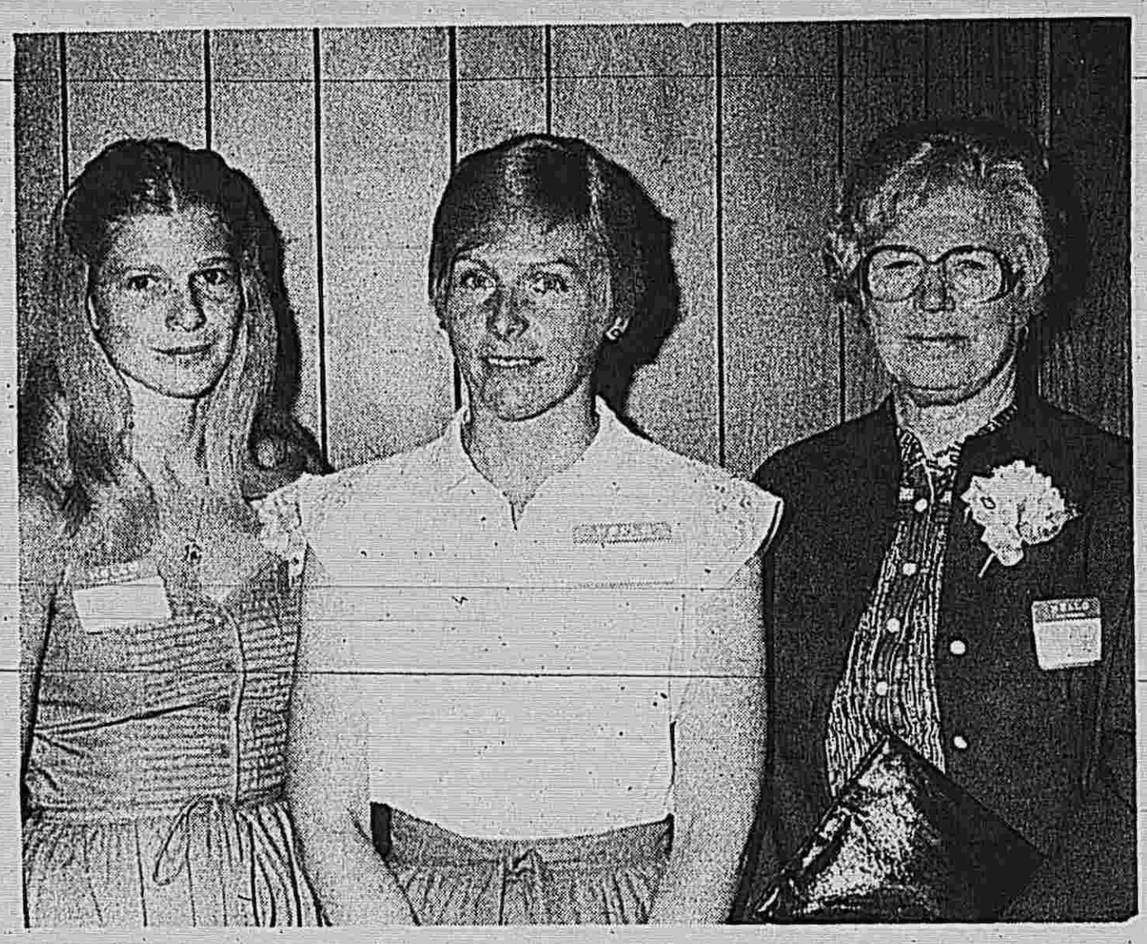

For the same period, the Wisconsin State Patrol made 46 arrests in Twin Lakes: 13 speeding, six drunken driving, 23 equipment violations and four miscellaneous arrests. Kenosha County deputies arrested one for marijuana possession and one traffic arrest was listed in a preliminary report.

Richmond police arrested four Illinois speeders, three drunken drivers, seven equipment violations from Illinois; three equipment violations from Wisconsin and charged seven with transport of open intoxicants.

"It is our obligation as a law enforcement agency to attempt to curb these problems," Lt. Dan Clebos said. "We intend to make valid arrests that will spread the word."

Antioch Open is Sept. 19

Entries are flowing in on a regular basis for the annual Antioch Open Golf Tournament scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 19-20.

Nick Tiester, tournament co-chairman, says that entries have been coming in each day "along with inquiries about the event.

"We've already got about 60 to 70 entries signed up," he said. "At the rate we've been going, we should get near 120 or 130 total golfers."

The 36-hole tournament to be held at Harbor Ridge Country Club in Antioch is co-sponsored by Harbor Ridge and Lakeland Newspapers.

The tournament is open to both male and female golfers, with seperate divisions being set up for both. There will be five to six different flights for each division, depending upon the number of entries.

For further information, contact Al Zuehlsdorf, golf pro at Harbor Ridge, at (312) 395-3004.

Change food stamps

Major changes in food stamp eligibility rules and benefits will begin taking effect Oct. 1, Mary C. Jarratt, assistant secretary of agriculture for food and consumer services, said.

"The changes, required by the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981, are aimed at saving $1.7 billion in federal costs for the food stamp program in fiscal year 1982 which begins October 1," she said.

"The new rules must be implemented swiftly to achieve the projected savings and operate the program within the amount Congress appropriates to avoid across the board benefit reductions," Jarratt said.

Jarratt said the first package of rules, which will be ready for public comment next month and take effect Oct. 1 will: remove higher income households from the program, or reduce their benefits; drop strikers from the program; prorate the initial month's benefits of new recipients from the date of application; delay cost of living adjustments in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's "thrifty food plan" used for calculating food stamp benefits; and delay and reduce cost of living adjustments in the deductions allowed from gross income in determining benefits.

"In September, Congress plans to complete action on food stamp reauthorization legislation in the House of Representatives and on food stamp appropriations in the U.S. Senate," Jarratt said. "Both are required for the program to operate after September 30."
